Great Opportunity!

A great opportunity has opened up to WGHS seniors taking Economics for the 2016/17 school year. The University of Arizona has partnered with us to create a dual enrollment year-long Economics class called: PHL 101: Ethics, Economy, and Entrepreneurship. This class meets the economic requirement for graduation and students will have the option of enrolling in the UA in January to earn 3 credit hours. These are genuine university college credits transferable to universities throughout the US.

- An opportunity to study economics in the richer context of ethics and entrepreneurship and thereby apply these concepts to their own lives.
- An opportunity to take a University level class and receive 3 credit hours from the University of Arizona at the same time they are taking a course that fulfills the high school economics requirement.

Congratulations Ms. Sorce!

Congratulations Ms. Sorce for being invited to participate in the Educational Advisory Fellowship at the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. This is a true testament to your hard work and professionalism.
